ALUMNI AWARDS

2023 President's Distinguished Alumni Award Regina Black Lennox '77

The President's Distinguished Alumni Award is reserved for a graduate who exemplifies the characteristics of leadership, dedication to Catholic Franciscan values, and has made a longstanding commitment to Neumann University. Regina Black Lennox epitomizes that description and brings enduring honor to the university with her continued support of Neumann and her professional track record. Regina is a life-long educator, former teacher, administrator, and consultant dedicated to improving the life of children and building awareness and action around corporate social responsibility. Regina currently serves as Executive Vice President & Chief of Staff, Satell Institute, a collective force of purpose-driven companies, and prior to that served almost twenty years at the Progressive Business Publications as the Director of Philanthropy & Corporate Citizenship. She is an advisory board member at the Museum of the American Revolution, a board member at the American Technion Association and is active with the organization, Girl Scouts of the USA. Regina has been awarded The Distinguished Advocate Award by The Support Center for Child Advocates, the Girl Scouts Juliet Light Award, and the Neumann University Alumni Association Recognition Award.

2023 Alumni Association John Neumann Award Sr. Clare Andrew D'Auria, O.S.F. '72

Sr. Clare Andrew D'Auria received her bachelor's in English at Neumann University in 1972. She also studied at Duquesne University and Washington Theological University preparing her for a life of enhancing Christianity in the lives of others. Sr. Clare now travels approximately half of the year, leading retreats all over the country and abroad. Her retreats are often booked years in advance and are typically focused on women's spirituality and the spirituality of aging. Her other ministerial experience has included congregational and provincial leadership, secondary and collegiate education, and a variety of additional administrative roles both within and outside of her congregation. Sr. Clare currently serves as program presenter and spiritual director at the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia, Franciscan Spiritual Center offering retreat experiences on site.

2023 Alumni Association Recognition Award Gabriel Angemi '16

Gabriel Angemi is the captain and second-generation member of the City of Camden Fire Department, leading and directing emergency services personnel and supervising five firefighters, company quarters, and fire apparatus. Angemi is a member of Camden Fire Department's Special Operations Companies. Angemi has been recognized with mayoral proclamations, two Class 2 Meritorious Awards, numerous unity citations, recognition for valor and a Distinguished Service Award from the Camden County Hero Scholarship Fund.

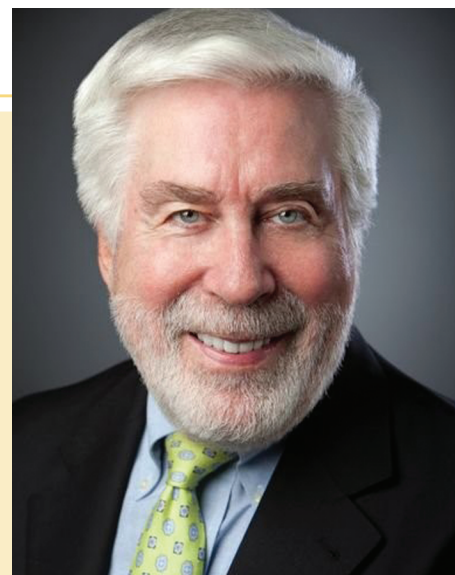

Angemi not only uses his education in service of others, but in the advancement of Neumann University's mission. Angemi reflected, "Awareness of Franciscan values while serving others helped re-establish my mission-oriented attitude and gave me a renewed sense of altruism, a mindset for me while on and off duty."

In addition to his Neumann University degree, Angemi graduated from Georgetown with a master's degree in emergency and disaster management, attended the Harvard T. H. Chan School of Public Health and is currently attending the University of Southern California pursuing a doctorate degree in education.

2023 Honorary Alumni Award John C. Ford

John Ford refers to himself as a "walking history book" for Neumann University. This is certainly a suitable title for a man with his long history with the University. John has served on the Board of Trustees for more than 40 years and served as board chair for two terms. He has served as a chair of the Development Committee and has participated in the growth of Neumann University from a burgeoning commuter college to a thriving residential university. John with his wife, Sandra, has also funded the John C. Ford Academic Resource Center, a dance studio in the Mirenda Center and scholarships for students with a particular interest in visual communications.

John is founder and principal of John C. Ford Associates, a consulting firm that specializes in management, leadership, sales, and organizational communications. His impressive corporate career included senior level positions in broadcasting (CBS, ABC, and the Home Box Office division of Time Warner) and in financial services (the American Stock Exchange and Merrill Lynch & Co.). He sits on numerous committees in academe, the arts and community affairs. John is recipient of the 2015 Neumann University Presidential Humanitarian Award and the University of Maryland Leadership Award. To honor John's contributions, the university dedicated the John C. Ford Student Success Center in spring of 2022.

2023 The Spirit of Francis and Clare of Assisi Award

Patricia Demiranda '14

Patricia is co-founder of the William Trippley Youth Development Foundation (WTYDF), created to honor the memory of her son, William Trippley. The Trippley foundation offers at-risk youth a year-round program focusing on education and soccer. Patricia advocates for legislation like the Safer Pennsylvania Act, which aims to increase resources and support for crime victims and improve incarcerated people's access to rehabilitation to reduce recidivism and has devoted her life to improving communities and families.

Patricia is also the founder of Camp Encouragement, a grief camp for children who lost loved ones. This week-long camp allows children to participate in counseling sessions, talk about their loved ones, and meet other children going through the same or similar issues. Patricia is a trustee of the Media Providence Friends school, serves on the Chester Community Coalition, and was instrumental in the planning and creation of the STEMS playground at Showalter in Chester.

Patricia received her bachelor's degree in accounting from Virginia State College and earned a master's degree in organizational and strategic leadership from Neumann University.

2023 Young Alumni Achievement Award

Dontae Timothy Phillips '10

Dontae Phillips is currently assigned to the Joint Staff at National Guard Bureau in Arlington, Virginia as a commissioned officer for Exceptional Family Member Program actions, issues, and initiatives and previously served as a chaplain (captain) for the department of defense.

Humbly he tells, "I learned of the rich heritage of the Sisters of Saint Francis of Philadelphia through my one-on-one interactions with the sisters and community service projects in the surrounding areas. Through community service and commitment, I forged lasting memories in attending spiritual retreats, feeding the homeless, and growing through my spiritual walk and journey while away from home."

Some of the awards he has been bestowed include the Aaron E. Gast Award in Urban Ministry 2016, an ESF Top Performer Award 2011, the Ichiban Award, and the Mary Francis Bachmann Award. Dontae's military decorations and awards include: the National Defense Service Medal, Army Service Ribbon, the Armed Forces Service Medal in response to COVID-19, and the Maryland Emergency Service Ribbon.

Dontae has a degree in political science from Neumann University, a master's degree in public administration from Villanova, a master's degree in divinity from Princeton's Theological Seminary and is currently pursuing a doctorate in philosophy from the University of Maryland.

2023 Volunteer of the Year Award

Courtney Curcio '18

Courtney Curcio graduated from Neumann in 2018 with a bachelor's degree in sport management. Courtney currently serves as the foundation director of the non-profit Professional Golfers Association (PGA) Philadelphia Reach. She developed relationships while she was a student that not only helped her in her professional career but strengthened her appreciation of giving back to Neumann to advance the sport management program and inspire service in fellow and future students. Without pause since graduation, Courtney lends her enthusiasm to the creation of a sport management affinity group, educates Neumann students as a guest speaker, volunteers in many roles for the university's annual fundraising golf event and is a tireless advocate for the value of a Neumann education.

2023 School of Arts and Sciences Distinguished Alumni

Dr. Kevin Copeland '00

Dr. Kevin Copeland began his studies in radiologic technology, after which, he obtained a Bachelor of Science degree at Neumann University in December of 2000 where he graduated with honors. Dr. Copeland then went on to attend medical school at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. His postgraduate training in internal medicine took place at Christiana Care Health Systems Program where he was nominated to serve as the Chief Resident for the Medicine Program at Christiana Care Health Systems. He began his fellowship in cardiology the following year and was elected the Chief Cardiology Fellow from July 2012 - June 2013. After completing his fellowship in cardiology, he continued an additional year of fellowship with a concentration in interventional cardiology.

Dr. Copeland has presented and published several abstracts and manuscripts in both general and interventional cardiology. He has a strong interest in interventional cardiology, and in the treatment of aortic stenosis with transcatheter aortic valve replacement.

Dr. Copeland is Board Certified in general and interventional cardiology from the American Board of Internal Medicine. He is also a fellow of the American College of Cardiology. Dr. Copeland has been a member of Cardiology Physicians, P.A. since July of 2014.

Dr. Copeland was awarded Physician Ambassador for the Cardiovascular Critical Care Unit and Nurse Physician Partner for both 2012 and 2013. In 2019, Dr. Copeland was recognized in Delaware Today as one of Delaware's Top Doctors.

2023 School of Business Distinguished Alumni

Denada Ramnishta '04

Denada Ramnishta majored in international business and international studies at Neumann University. She graduated with honors in 2004. In 2011, Ramnishta completed her MBA through a joint program between Columbia Business School and London Business School. She was a senior product manager at Pfizer followed by a position in Business Development and Partnerships for American Express. Denada is currently the Chief Executive Officer of iCount/Klyme, an all-in-one enablement SaaS platform for small and mid size businesses. Denada is responsible for the vision and growth of the company. She is committed to iCount's mission to elevating entrepreneurship and by doing so, empowering the very communities the entrepreneurs work and live. Prior to iCount, Denada was the Chief Growth Officer & GM at Lendio, the leading small business financing marketplace. As a fintech executive, Denada is trailblazing the industry and raising the bar on inspirational leadership.

She is an expert contributor for Forbes and a speaker at leading industry conferences. Denada states, "I have so much love for the mission and work that I do that, even though it can be stressful at times, I'm also practicing my mission of making the world better." She connects that mission-driven approach and mindset to that of Neumann. Denada remains connected to her alma mater and most recently led a leadership talk for the Center for Leadership.

2023 School of Education and Human Services Distinguished Alumni Kimberly LaCoste, Ed.D. '91

Dr. Kimberly LaCoste earned her bachelor's in education from Neumann and completed her master's degrees in reading from St. Joseph's University, culminating in a doctoral degree in educational leadership from Neumann University. As a student she received the Sr. Everilda Flynn Award for Excellence in Early Childhood Education. She currently works for the Rose Tree Media School District as a supervisor of special education and before that she worked twenty-two years in the Upper Darby School District. Kimberly credits her Neumann experience for shaping her as a servant leader. She embraces service as a lifelong commitment and volunteers and raises funds for the Special Olympics, Bocce program and the Eagles Autism Foundation.

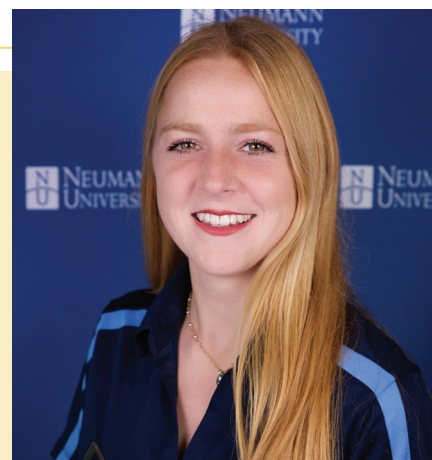

2023 School of Nursing and Health Sciences Distinguished Alumni Sr. Rose Raymond Barba OSF '78

Sr. Rose Raymond Barba began her nursing career as a licensed practical nurse at St. Mary's Hospital when she decided to further her education at Neumann University, then, Our Lady of Angels to earn her RN and BSN. After graduation, she worked for ten years in the Burn Center at the St. Agnes Medical Center beginning as a staff nurse and advancing to assistant head nurse. After the burn center, Sr. Rose worked in Utilization Review and Management, Cardiac Rehab, and finally Home Care at St Agnes Medical Center. Sr. Rose was also a member of the Provincial and General Leadership Team for the sisters of St. Francis. She has been employed at the Assisi House for the past 13 years recently transitioning from Assistant Administrator to staff in the Pastoral Service department. Using her nursing degree and experience, she collaborates closely with the director of nursing.

2023 Alumni Association Outstanding Senior Award Dariana Troilo '23

Dariana Troilo is on track to graduate with a bachelor's degree in health science/certified exercise physiology athletic trainer. While academically thriving, Dariana absorbed other opportunities to make the most of her college career. Dariana served as a Mass sacristan, a Presidential Ambassador, the captain of the Women's Soccer team, and a member of the Tennis team and the Health Science Club. Dariana volunteers for Philabundance and has her mind on a future that involves giving back to Neumann. She will be attending Neumann for her master's degree in athletic training.
