

Online Certificate in Franciscan Studies

This four course certificate program is designed to:

- Provide a unified understanding of the Franciscan Tradition.
- Prepare students to form Franciscan experiences in their personal and professional lives.
- Strengthen students' relationship with Franciscan history.
- Discover applications to everyday life situations in today's world.

Recommended participants:

This course is highly recommended for faculty and staff at any of the AFCU partners who wish to feel more at home in the Franciscan lived expression of Gospel spirituality, and the Franciscan intellectual tradition. Because of the experience of the instructors, it is also applicable for those who are leading Formation Programs for Franciscan Religious Institutes as well as for folks at any stage of formation (including a Jubilee in home sabbatical) and Associates who wish to deepen their knowledge base to the Franciscan tradition. This course has also been useful for formation of those in the Franciscan Secular Order or in preparation for a life commitment.

2019-2020 Schedule:

Although the courses are somewhat related and follow a sequence, they may be taken separately as well. Thus, if it suits your schedule better, you may enter any one of the courses following the schedule provided below. The detailed syllabus is provided at the beginning of the course.

Course One:	Understanding Franciscan Origins & Values I	September 15-October 13, 2019
Course Two:	Understanding Franciscan Origins & Values II	October 20-November 17, 2019
Course Three:	Franciscan Spirituality and Evangelical Life	January 13-February 9, 2020
Course Four:	Franciscan Tradition in Art and Literature	February 16-March 15, 2020

Course Descriptions:

Course I: Understanding Franciscan Origins & Values I

This course presents the story of the early Franciscan movement. It begins with the conversion of Francis of Assisi and the origin of the Fraternity of Lesser Brothers that gathered around him. The conversion of Clare and the beginnings of her community of Poor Sisters is then considered, followed by the attraction of both lay men and women to the Gospel charism as preached by the Lesser Brothers in the towns of medieval Italy.

Course II: Understanding Franciscan Origins & Values II

This course presents the early history of the Franciscan movement when Francis, Clare and their companions were developing their way of life according to the Gospel. The legends reveal some of the essential values that emerged and are present and alive in the Franciscan tradition even today.

Course III: Franciscan Spirituality and Evangelical Life

This course in Franciscan Spirituality and the Evangelical Life is designed to enable you to understand and reflect upon the basis of Franciscan spirituality and the evangelical life in terms of each person's relationship to God, Jesus Christ, the world and the human person through the following topics: conversion, poverty, the Canticle of the Creatures, and the aspects of fraternity and mutuality.

Course IV: Franciscan Tradition in Art and Literature

This course in the Franciscan Tradition in Art and Literature is designed to acquaint you with the influence that Francis and Clare had on artists from the Renaissance period to the present day. Also included in the course will be a module relative to the literature of Francis through a pictorial presentation of his Canticle of the Creatures and how Francis is represented in poetry and literature.

These courses constitute the whole of the online certificate program in Franciscan studies. Each course runs for four weeks. Each week constitutes a module that includes: an overview, assigned readings from various hyper links to related articles, and/or activities from document sharing, online discussions, and a reflection writing assignment. Due dates and evaluation for each element of the module will be clearly spelled out. Due dates for assignments are staggered to give you time to read, reflect, interact and complete each assignment.
