

Christine M. Costello has extensive background in political fundraising and currently serves as the Finance Director for the Majority Leader of the Pennsylvania Senate, Dominic Pileggi, a position she has held for the past five years. Throughout the years she has served as an invaluable advisor and consultant for numerous candidates and elected officials across Pennsylvania at the local, county and statewide levels.

During her career, Christine has raised funds for candidates in all levels of government, ranging from the President of the United States to candidates running for School Board. She has also served as the Executive Director of the Chester County Republican Committee and the Finance Director of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania. Her experience and record of success led her to be recognized by PoliticsPa as one of the top political operatives in Pennsylvania.

Christine is actively involved in a number of community and civic organizations. She currently serves as Vice Chair of the Chester County Women's Commission and is a member of the board of the Domestic Violence Center of Chester County. Christine is also a board member of SOS Cris d'Enfants, a non-profit organization that operates a school and church in Haiti. Christine also volunteers her free-time as a "Big Sister" through the Big Brother/Big Sister Program of South Eastern Pennsylvania.

A graduate of West Chester University, Christine was appointed by then Governor Edward Rendell and confirmed by the Pennsylvania State Senate to serve on the Council of Trustee's at West Chester University. Christine also serves on the boards of Student Services Inc. at West Chester University, an independent, self-supporting business organized as a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) corporation.

Christine and her husband Ryan reside in West Chester, Pennsylvania.
