About this program. . .

Through the inspiration of Dorothy Day, as seen in the paintings and stories of his latest book, Brother Mickey explores the beauty of our church, world and homes. Dorothy Day's life motto, "In the end, beauty will save the world," is the inspiration for a look at Catholic social teaching and justice. Come re-discover the healing power of beauty as well as ways to be a beautiful presence in our troubled world and church.

About the presenter. . .

Michael McGrath, OSFS, an Oblate of St. Francis DeSales, is an artist, writer and speaker who loves to explore the relationship between art and faith. Mickey has been Artist-in-Residence at the Washington Theological Union and has taught art and prayer workshops at the Grunewald Guild. He also creates art for many of today's leading Catholic publishers, including Crosswords Press, America magazine, St. Mary's Press, Harcourt Religion, and the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops.
