

Spirit of Assisi Prayer Service

In October 1986, Pope John Paul II invited representatives of world religions to Assisi to pray for Peace.

This experience came to be called the Spirit of Assisi, reflecting the example of St. Francis as a symbol of peace, reconciliation, and mutual relationship with all people and all creation.

Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis continued the tradition inviting persons of good will to come to Assisi to pray for peace.

In this same “Spirit of Assisi,” our Neumann University Peace Pole was dedicated in October 1995.

Tens of thousands of Peace Poles in countries around the world each bear the message

May Peace Prevail on Earth

in the diverse languages of our planet.

to pray that we may be instruments of God’s peace and justice as we actively strive to combat the sin of racism.
