

Kathleen Brunner, President and Founder, Acumen Analytics

Kathleen Brunner is President and Founder of Acumen Analytics, a WBE Certified Business Analytics and Performance Management consulting firm that works with Fortune 1000 businesses interested in optimizing their performance in human capital management, finance, project management and processes to create competitive advantage through data driven insights and predictions. Brunner has been combining her extensive technology experience and accounting background to solve complex business challenges and achieve results as both an entrepreneur and corporate accountant for over 20 years. As President of Acumen Analytics, Kathy is a team builder and a thought leader, able to develop a strong rapport with clients and their in-house team to create practical programs that work. She holds a Bachelor's Degree from St. Joseph's University.