

Siobhan Reardon, President, The Free Library of Philadelphia

Siobhan Reardon is President and Director of the Free Library of Philadelphia. She is the first woman to serve in this position. Reardon has overseen freelibrary.org's expansion to feature downloadable material, online collections, and mobile web pages. She has also spearheaded the creation of a five-year plan to improve efficiencies, internal communications, and customer experience.

Reardon holds a BA from SUNY Purchase, an MA from Fordham University, and an MLS from the Palmer School of Library Science at Long Island University. She is an Endowment Trustee of the American Library Association, a member of the Standing Committee of the Metropolitan Library Caucus of the International Federation of Library Associations, and chair of the board of LYRASIS, a library services organization. She also serves on the boards of several organizations including the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Philadelphia Cultural Alliance, the Philadelphia Education Fund, and the West Philadelphia Alliance for Children.
