

Tore Fiore, Executive Director, Brandywine Conference & Visitors Bureau

For the last nine years, Tore Fiore has served as the Executive Director of Delaware County's Brandywine Conference and Visitors Bureau. Prior to coming to the Visitors Bureau, Fiore worked in TV and Radio as an executive at the Mike Douglas Show, Channel 12, KYW Radio, and WFIL Radio.

Fiore also worked in event planning for a number of years. As Special Events Manager for We the People 200, he organized over 20 events celebrating the United States Constitution. He also served as Corporate Sponsorship Coordinator for the Rose Tree Summer Festival, President of Check Mate Productions, and Special Projects Manager for the late Speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives Matthew Ryan.

Additionally, he serves as Chairman of Philadelphia and the Countryside, Member of the Government Affairs Committee for the Pennsylvania Travel and Tourism Association, Advisory Board Member at the Franklin Mint Federal Credit Union, and Executive Producer for Walk for the Wounded.

Fiore is a lifelong resident of Delaware County who has called Upper Providence home for the past 28 years. He is a graduate of Sharon Hill High School, and he earned his bachelor's degree in Business and Speech Communications from West Chester University.
