A Call for Proposals

Theme: a sharing of faculty scholarship and teaching practices. We encourage the sharing of ideas that you have found meaningful in your research and/or helpful in your teaching.

Poster Presentations & Discussions: The poster session will take place at round tables where the presenters can share their ideas and facilitate discussion about applications and relevance. If you have an idea for a poster presentation please complete the attached application and submit it to Jim Kain at jkain@neumann.edu.

Oral Presentations: Think short, sweet and fascinating. We are looking for presenters who are excited about new work they are doing, whether in scholarship or in teaching. Following the model of TED talks, we are limiting the presentations to 10 minutes and the follow-up Q&A of 10 minutes. So if you have an exciting idea to share and can deliver it effectively in 10 minutes, let us know. Please complete the attached application and submit it to Jim Kain at jkain@neumann.edu.

Proposals must be received by September 30.
